30 Years ago

What seemed only a somewhat utopian fantasy 30 years ago has, over time, turned out to be a concrete and solid reality with significant impact for athletes' health. The Società Italiana for Odonstomatology of Sports (SIOS). has had moments of brilliance, such as at the 2006 Turin Olympics, and thanks to the enthusiasm and work of all those who have succeeded its leadership, it has reached its 30th Birthday.

As 20 years ago, in 2004, when we celebrated the SIOS 10th year anniversary with a conference in its hometown Varese, today, in the same venue, we are delighted to mark the 30th year jubilee of our society. In our event, we will celebrate the ones who sadly are no longer with us, but left a milestone mark in the growth of SIOS. Projected into the future of the Winter

Olympics 2026, and the promising outlook of the research and scientific developments, which have historically been the cornerstones of SIOS, in this jubilee conference, we will delve into the prevention of maxillofacial trauma and the pursuit of oral health, for the optimization of the athletes performance and wellbeing. The work done in recent years at the "G. d'Annunzio" University of Chieti, in which many members have participated, has allowed an important leap forward toward the goals described above, and the ones to come. With the commitment of all SIOS members, the 30th years anniversary conference wants to be a testimony of the exciting developments in the field based on solid scientific evidence and a drive for innovation to the benefits of athletes.
